RIOTING AND REIGN OF TERROR IN COLORADO NAVAL BATTLE IS SAID TO BE ON

As the Result of the Murder of Thirteen Non-union Men by Explosion of an Infernal Machine and More are Killed and Injured in the Conflict.

Sheriff Resigns and is Succeeded by Non-union Sympathisers—Vigilance Committee Takes Charge of Government of County—Determined Stand Taken by Both Sides—More Bloodshed is Likely.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 7.—Thirteen men were killed and eight injured as a result of the dynamite explosion yesterday and the injured are in a critical condition.

The dynamite was exploded by a committee of mine workers and sympathizers have taken the government of Teller county under the sheriff of the county.

Large property owners are outspoken in opposition to the miners' union.

Large squads of the sheriff's armed deputies are patrolling the district.

By Associated Press.

Victor, Col., June 7.—After the riot of yesterday afternoon, in which one man was killed and six wounded, following the mass meeting called to discuss the dynamiting at Independence more bloodshed was expected but nothing of the kind occurred and all is quiet.

More than one hundred and fifty union miners have been arrested and imprisoned in the army by soldiers.

Sheriff Henry M. Robinson complied with the request to resign and Edward Bell was appointed sheriff in his place.

The machine with which the work was done, consisted of a quantity of dynamite estimated at from 100 to 300 pounds, a loaded revolver and a long slender steel wire were attached to the trigger. The revolver was fastened so that the pulling of the trigger would draw it away. The wire ran from under the station to the cribbing of the Delmonico property, about 400 feet away, where its end was fastened to the ring of a chair. The dynamite was placed close to the muzzle of the revolver, which was discharged by pulling the wire when the engineer blew his whistle. The ball from the revolver exploded the dynamite.

A man was seen running down the hill from the Delmonico after the explosion. The Victor troops, who were ordered out by Major French, were so stationed as to keep people from passing over the path taken by this man and bloodhounds were sent from Canon City and Trinidad for the purpose of trailing the assassin.

The infernal machine used was similar to the one exploded in the Vin detector, November 21, 1903, killing two men.

By order of Major H. A. Taylor, of the National Guard, the bodies were removed from the coroner's establishment to the undertakers.

This action was taken on the request of J. S. Murphy, superintendent of the Findley mine, because it is alleged Coroner James Doran had remarked before the discovery of the infernal machine that the death of the men was due to accident. Later Doran explained that although he had spoken of the disaster as "an awful disaster," he was convinced that a terrible crime had been committed.

Rioting broke out late yesterday afternoon while a mass meeting was being held to discuss the murder of the twelve non-union miners by means of an infernal machine at Independence. Forty shots were fired into the crowd in the street. One man was killed and six persons at least injured. The dead: R. McGee, of Victor, shot through the heart.

The injured: William Hoskings, of Goldfield, may die; Miller, of Goldfield; may die; Davis, skull seriously injured; Peter Fleming; Fred Strudivers, engineer at Independence mine.

One unknown man.

At headquarters Adjutant General Bell, of this city, has everything in readiness to promptly meet the call for additional troops in the camp. It is understood that roads have been built to have engines and cars ready to run to Cripple Creek should an appeal for more soldiers. However, the tone of the communication received from Sheriff Bell, the newly appointed officer of Teller county, he will only ask for further aid from the military as a last resort.

Yesterday's outbreak had its inception in the strike of the Western Federation of Miners something over a year ago when 4,000 quit work to enforce the eight-hour day. This action so incensed the mine owners that they declared war on unionism and the breach has widened with the passage of time. Much lawlessness has prevailed.

By Associated Press.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 7.—A force of 300 armed deputy sheriffs is going through the district warning all union men to leave Teller county. They arrest and escort them to the county line. Some union men are armed and will resist exile.

BROADDUS BRINDLE

FOUND AT NIGHT TIME IN THE THIRD STORY OF MAIN BUILDING PUT TO BED.

Cow Had Been Taken From Stall and Led Up Flights of Stairs—Either a Prank Or a Scheme to Injure Management.

Rather a serious prank, if such it was designed to be, was played on Broaddus Institute Monday night, while the management, faculty and students were at the entertainment at the Baptist church. Persons took the college cow from her stall in the stables and led her into the main building. First the cow visited the principal's office and was then taken to the third story, where she was put to bed for the night. The discovery was made, when they returned from the recital and it was also then discovered that the telephone wires had been cut so that the police could not be notified. Persons were evidently ambushed on the outside to watch the effects of the discovery, and when it was known that they had run across the cow in the college building, an awful yell went up from the outside.

It is stated that the cow was led into the building as a joke, but it is strongly intimated that parties who have not been able to control the management of the Institute as formerly may have instigated the proceeding, since it was the day prior to the board meeting, at which the management for the next year is decided upon. It matters not who it was, the people generally who have the Institute at heart hope the board will have no hesitancy in retaining the present management and the cow as well.

WHITE FARM SELLS FOR $600 AN ACRE

One Hundred and Twenty Acres Purchased at that Fine Figure for Fashionable East Clarksburg and Now Being Laid Off Into Building Lots, Streets and Boulevards.

D. W. Jacobs and a number of other persons, including Pennsylvania, Buckhannon and local parties, have purchased the T. C. White farm, east of the city, at a figure that shows the high estimate placed on Harrison county real estate and which reveals to the world the superiority of realty in this county over land in other sections of the country. The price is such as to leave the impression that the White farm is a suburb to a metropolitan city of the leading class, and shows the faith the purchasers have in Clarksburg's wonderful future and assured greatness.

The deal has been on some time but not until this week was it entirely consummated. There are 120 acres in the tract and the price from the best information obtainable was about $600 per acre, which indicates that at least $72,000 was paid for this farm.

The purchasers will organize a company by incorporating it at once under the name, Fair Ground Improvement Company, and the farm will be known as the New Fair Ground addition to the City of Clarksburg.

Surveyors are at work running the property off into building lots, streets and boulevards of modern design. The farm will be divided into about 800 building lots of splendid size. The main street will run through the center of the farm from side to side and will be 60 feet wide. The other streets will all be 40 feet wide, and taken as a whole, the farm will conform to all the requirements of a modern city.

This tract lies on the east side of the Buckhannon road about a mile and a half east of the court house and is bounded by the Buckhannon road, the grounds of the West Virginia Fair Association and Elk creek. A beautiful feature is the ten-acre grove upon it of large oak and other trees, practically at this time a virgin forest, but which will be cleared of underbrush and converted into a model park.

The farm will be turned into a place especially adapted to a residence section, both for permanent and summer homes, and it will be the endeavor to make of the addition "fashionable East Clarksburg" as one of the purchasers says.

The possibilities of the addition are beyond human conception, as the plans are beyond those yet introduced in Clarksburg. Among these are access by trolley, the Clarksburg Industrial Company having projected a line of street railway along Monticello avenue into and through Alta Vista and Broad Oaks and across the new bridge to the Industrial addition. This done a trolley line will be run along the main street of the new addition to the fair grounds at a cost of $15,000. Also, the progress being made in extending the railroad to the fair grounds will result in giving this new addition railroad facilities.

The purchase means much for Clarksburg as the movement to establish a modern suburban town there will give commercial and industrial conditions here a great stimulus. And that it is a place that will take with investors and those who want fine suburban homes away from the bustle and noise of the city no one doubts.

The plans of the company are not yet fully matured, but from what can be learned the property will be placed on the market at an early date.

CHARLEY MOORE IS A HORSE THIEF

ACCORDING TO WARRANT SWORN OUT AGAINST HIM BY RILEY ABLES IN MAGISTRATE GORDON'S COURT.

ABLES TOOK THE HORSE IN ALLEY BUT MOORE GOT IT BACK AND RODE OFF ON IT.

Deputized as Special Constable and Armed With Warrant Ables Rushes Off in Pursuit of Moore—Result of Disagreement on Horse Title.

Riley Ables, of Reynolds addition, left Clarksburg on horseback Tuesday afternoon via the Weston road in pursuit of one Charles Moore, whom he claims to be a horse thief. Besides being armed with a warrant calling for Moore's arrest, Ables was armed with the power of the law, for just before leaving on his mission he was deputized a special constable by Magistrate Samuel W. Gordon. Some time ago Ables sold a horse to Moore. By the agreement Moore paid part of the purchase price down and the rest was to be paid in work and in installment payments. Moore was to keep the horse which he did. There was some difficulty in the payments or the purchase agreement and when Ables came to town Tuesday and found the horse hitched in an alleyway he concluded to take the horse. He consulted legal authority about the matter and when informed that he could take the horse if it was his own property, he made up his mind to take it. He unhitched the animal and took him into another alley and hitched him up to await the time he was ready to return to his domicile.

Meanwhile Moore became aware of the proceedings and after looking around a bit found the horse in the alley where Ables had hitched it. He took the horse, mounted it and rode on his way as if nothing had ever happened.

Ables was exceedingly wrathful when he found that Moore had taken the horse and he went before Magistrate Gordon to try and invoke the warrant to be sworn out against Moore charging him with horse stealing and then the constables were busy on other legal proceedings asked that he be sworn in as a special constable to arrest Moore. Ables was duly sworn and as soon as he was started out on a hot chase after Moore.

At the time of going to press neither Ables nor Moore had shown up at the Magistrate's court, and it is supposed that Ables is still on a hunt for him.

STATUS OF SLOT MACHINES

IN WEST VIRGINIA WILL BE ESTABLISHED BY DECISION OF TEST CASE NOW BEING HEARD BY THE SUPREME COURT.

Case of the State vs. Frank Gaughan of this City, for Running a Slot Machine is Attracting State-Wide Attention.

A famous test case, or at least a case that is of State-wide importance since it will establish the status of the slot machine, is being heard by the Supreme Court which is sitting in Wheeling. The case is that of the State vs. Frank Gaughan, of this city, and it was appealed by the defendant after he had been given a jail sentence for maintaining a machine in his saloon in the west end.

Judge Mason held that the machines were gambling devices within the meaning of the statute, the decision of Judge Doolittle to the contrary notwithstanding. Contrary to expectations the case was not argued in the Supreme Court Monday afternoon but was merely submitted in briefs.

The highest interest in the outcome of the case is manifested throughout the State for the reason that there has never been an expression from the Supreme Court on the subject.
